Nope.
I do not drink smoke or had ever done drugs
Nerdy and proud
I'm a gaady two-shaes if you disregard af the human remains in my trunk
My body is a temple the only offering I bring is food

Human remains, Aidyn...I don't even think you're kidding.
But wow. That's impressive.
'cuz y'know, Cool kids do that stuff, you just kinda look like a wild one.

Given that I already have no love nor sex life,
all I gotta do is forgo vanity and anger problems
then I can join monks in the mountain for a life in solitude.

But then monks can't play on laptops. Guess it's not for me.

In all honesty, I don't start mind-altering substances mainly because if I have trouble fighting certain food cravings, I doubt my will power is strong enough to fight truly addictive substances.
I've also seen enough to personally not go down that path.
